Transport Workers Union of Australia

Value for money

... that's what you get from your TWU membership.

Surveys consistently show better wages and conditions for union members.

It stands to reason that no individual worker standing alone can hope to bargain with an employer on an equal footing.

The TWU ensures that workers combine their strength to speak with one voice.

We also empower workers on the job through extensive training programs to help them:

- negotiate effectively on behalf of members
- deal with small issues before they become big ones
- ensure that decisions are made democratically

Due to the often dangerous nature of our industry, we also give a high priority to training on occupational health & safety issues.

Unfair dismissals, workers compensation, superannuation, enterprise bargaining ... we're always there to help out.

We also provide a range of non-industrial services which are spelt out on our website: www.twu.asn.au

Where else would you find all this for under a dollar a day?

Members are Moving to Direct Debit

Why Direct Debit?

No worries No hassles

No wonder many TWU members are choosing to pay their membership dues by direct debit from their bank, credit union or building society

Payments are made fortnightly* giving you the following advantages-

You don't need to find a lump sum of over $300 at a time of year when money is often tight.

You need never fear that, by paying late or forgetting to pay altogether, you may lose your financial status and your access to services that are available only to financial members.

Is there an advantage to the Union?

Yes ... direct debit payments come in on a consistent basis. This makes it easier for us to budget.

It couldn't be easier to sign up for direct debit payments. Just fill out the form on the right and post it to:

*For 2004 the weekly figure is $6.50.
